CXT Software releases X Dispatch 9

Phoenix, AZ – October 23, 2008 – CXT Software released X Dispatch 9, a new version of its delivery management software, during its annual Customers and Partners Meeting held October 17.

X Dispatch is a comprehensive software solution designed for time-critical delivery businesses that helps them to better manage all aspects of their operations from the front office to officers in the field. Performance enhancements have been added throughout this new release to provide customers with more opportunities to streamline and automate their operations.

“The release of X Dispatch Version 9 further demonstrates our commitment to providing our new and existing customers with a solid product built on the latest technology.” stated Dan Calderone, CEO of CXT Software.

X Dispatch 9 boasts over thirty new feature enhancements. Highlights include new toolsets for task management, customer relationship management (CRM) and database backups. Weight Scale capabilities have been added, allowing customers to capture the correct weight on parcels that were previously understated or approximated. Multi-location companies can keep separate offices separate with the new business units feature.

New integration capabilities include tapping into your telephone system’s CallerID data to pre-populate incoming new order forms, and fully automated systems which allow third-party shippers to directly inject orders into your workflow.

Next Flight Out (NFO), a feature new to the previous release, now has a consolidation manifest which allows multiple orders to be grouped on the same line haul or flight.

Existing customers can begin taking advantage of these new features immediately with a free upgrade to X Dispatch 9.
